INTRODUCTION

The Diploma in the History of Medicine (DHMSA) was instituted by the Society of Apothecaries in 1970. The Diploma is intended to indicate familiarity with medical and healthcare practice from ancient to modern times and understanding of relevant methods of enquiry. It demonstrates the ability to identify, access, evaluate and share historic material; skills which are assessed through completing a Dissertation and presenting a lecture to a specific audience.

REVIEW AND APPEAL PROCEDURES

12. The processes outlined below will be dealt with according to the Examination Review and Appeal Procedure. Candidates must not make representations directly to an examiner.
13. The stages of the review and appeal procedures are as follows:
  - a. Feedback – first, compulsory stage;
  - b. Review – second, optional stage;
  - c. Appeal – third, optional stage.
14. Feedback (compulsory). The feedback process operates through the Head of the Academic Department (HOAD). Feedback on examination performance may be available to unsuccessful candidates at their request. Requests must be made in writing and be received by the HOAD within 28 days of the date of the result letter.
15. The HOAD has authority to pass to the candidate a breakdown of the results of each section of the examination where this is not provided with the result letter. This information should be read in conjunction with the explanation of the marking scheme and the standard that is required to achieve a pass in the examination contained in this Guide.
16. The HOAD can also relay a transcript of additional general advice directly to the candidate, if such advice is available. This is advice generated by the Examiners Committee, which had been agreed at the time of the examination. The HOAD's role is to distribute the prepared information but not to interpret it.
17. There is no charge to the candidate for this service.
18. Review (optional). A request by a candidate for a review of a paper must be received in writing within 28 days of the date of the notification informing the candidate of the feedback. A request for a review cannot be made without first going through the feedback stage. There is a fee of £175 for a review.
19. Appeal (optional). An appeal to the Society's AQSC is open to a candidate who is not satisfied with the original decision of the Examiners Committee, or the Feedback, or the Review. The candidate must state in writing the grounds upon which the appeal is being made. The appeal must be received in writing within 28 days of the date of the notification informing the candidate of the examination result or the review. It is not necessary to seek a review before appealing. There is a fee of £250 for an appeal.
20. If the appellant is dissatisfied with the report of the AQSC and wishes to make a final appeal to the Society's Court of Assistants, this should be communicated to the HOAD within 28 days of the date of the notification informing the candidate of the decision of the AQSC.

THE OPEN BOOK WRITTEN PAPER

Open Book Written Paper comprising an essay-style question. The first part of the question is designed to test the candidate's skill in interpreting given primary sources. The second part of the question is designed to test the candidate's ability to research and present a topic in a properly constructed academic essay, related to the context of the primary source image, text or object.

This will be a remote, Open Book Written Paper requiring an essay of maximum 3000 words, for parts one and two combined, to be submitted. Scripts will be typed in English with accurate spelling and appropriate grammar. This will be set over 7 days, typically Monday to Monday.

THE DISSERTATION

The Proposal

21. Proposals should be submitted via the Brightspace learning platform by the due date given in the Administrative Guidance for Candidates using the form provided . It is recommended that candidates obtain feedback from the examiner before any detailed writing or other research work on the Dissertation is undertaken.

The Dissertation proposal should include:

- a. Proposed title
  - b. Primary source material: The examiners strongly advise that you identify suitable primary sources at an early stage in planning your Dissertation
  - c. Secondary source material: What has already been written on this topic? Identify secondary sources relevant to your Dissertation
  - d. Description of content: In 500-800 words, please describe, what you intend to cover, how this relates to current thinking/scholarship, the thesis which you plan to propose
22. Feedback will be provided by two examiners via the Brightspace learning platform.

Proposals must be submitted for approval no later than the deadline published in the Administrative Guidance for Candidates.

Advice on selecting an appropriate title

23. The topic, to be chosen by the candidate, is to be in a field of personal and /or professional interest in the history of medicine. It must not be a paraphrase of textbooks or Internet material. The candidate must demonstrate original work with competence in accessing and using primary source material, which should be put into context with the relevant secondary literature. There should be a well-defined thesis, argument and conclusion to the Dissertation.
24. Experience suggests that the commonest mistake is to attempt to cover a subject stretching over an excessively long chronological span. A Dissertation of this length seeking to survey centuries or even millennia of history is likely to lapse into a mere listing of personalities and achievements, for which no real credit can be given.
25. Candidates are also advised against choosing a topic where attention given to the current situation is likely to outweigh a concern with more distinctively historical issues. Although the Dissertation allows the candidate to demonstrate specialist knowledge, it should be written with the non-specialist in mind.
26. We are unable to offer candidates formal tutorial assistance, but course tutors are usually willing to provide guidance.

References

27. Plagiarism is the presentation of another person's thoughts or words as if they were the writer's own. If another person's work is quoted, it must be acknowledged fully by means of a reference in the text (source to be given in the reference list) and putting the quotation in quotation marks, i.e. "...". This also applies to verbatim short sections from a source. Paraphrasing statements of factual knowledge or ideas from published works, lectures or web sources is not plagiarism if the original source is referenced and the paraphrasing is not extensive.
28. Any diagrams, tables, graphs etc. which have been taken directly from a source or modified from a source must include appropriate details of the author and source, as well as being acknowledged e.g. from Bloggs et al 1998 or adapted from Bloggs et al 1998.

29. The format of references in the Dissertation should follow either the Harvard or Vancouver styles and should be consistent throughout.
30. References to Internet sources should include all the information required for a full and complete reference plus full details of the website (the URL of the site) and the date on which it was accessed, as the content of sites may change with time.
31. Additional footnotes should not be used unless they are absolutely essential to the argument.
32. Sources should normally be in English. Foreign sources may be used when there is no generally accepted published translation.

Further requirements

33. The Dissertation must include a word count and must not exceed 10,000 words including appendices, captions, references, footnotes and bibliography etc. It may be appropriately illustrated. It must be fully documented with references and bibliography.
34. An electronic copy must be submitted via the learning platform Brightspace by the published deadline. Late submissions will not be accepted.
35. Any evidence of plagiarism in a Dissertation will result in that Dissertation being rejected.
36. The Dissertation should include a title page with the following:

Diploma in the History of Medicine Dissertation title Candidate's name Date (e.g. 26 June 2018) Word Count:
---

39. Candidates will be asked to complete a declaration, such as the one given below. It should be incorporated into the Dissertation. Candidates are also required to add a copy of the Checklist (Appendix 3), when submitting their Dissertation.

Declaration Name: ..... I certify that this Dissertation is entirely my own work without plagiarism. I allocate joint copyright to the Society of Apothecaries. Signed ..... Date .....

40. The marking schedule is given in Appendix 1 below.

41. Dissertations should be formatted in a simple font (e.g. Arial, Calibri, Times New Roman), in 12-point, in black type, double-spaced, and formatted for A4 paper. Page number should appear in the footer.
42. Each Dissertation should be uploaded in a single file given a name including: "Your name DHMSA Dissertation title Date (YYMMDD)". For example:

Bob Smith DHMSA Ancient Chinese Medicine 180626

THE TEST LECTURE

43. The lecture is a test of content, presentation and communication. The audience will consist of the examiners, other candidates and invited members of the Worshipful Society of Apothecaries. The lecture should be based on a topic of interest to the candidate and it must be completely different from the subject matter of the candidate's Dissertation.
44. The candidate is required to give a complete and balanced lecture in the 15 minutes. The lecture should be appropriate for the intended audience and should have both a clear introduction and conclusion. The content should be presented systematically. There will be no time for questions afterwards.
45. The marking schedule is given in Appendix 2 below. Marks will be awarded for overall quality of presentation, engagement with the audience or use of remote communications, appropriate use of audio-visual aids and artefacts, and the treatment of source material. Marks will be deducted for poor time keeping.
46. The Test Lecture will be presented remotely via zoom. Candidates are advised to ensure availability and compatibility of their equipment for the time of the test. Please refer to the Administrative Guidance for Candidates for examination date.
